We need to learn to make new figures in letter writing and cheque drawing. The milestones along the road are the same, but they seem to call to us not to stumble and fall along the way as we did in past years.

People often speak of opening a new account with destiny; courses of study, expenditures of time, economies and the savings bank.

Why not open a new account with our consciences to talk less and do more to make people and homes happier and thus add to our peace of mind?

Let us determine to be reasonable, frank, firm and careful of our censure of each other and industrious to improve in all our occupations.
